

Never

confuse the commandment
to honor your parents with loving them.

Never
buy a cheap parachute.

Never forget that if people concentrated on the really important things in life, there would be a shortage of fishing poles.

Never overlook that the problem with the rat race is that even if you win, you're still a rat.

Never
sleep with your eyes open.

Never
drink the water in Mexico.

Never forget that every exit is the entry to somewhere else.

Never dive into an empty pool.

Never think about the weekend on Monday.

Never

sacrifice
your beliefs,
goals,
values,
or morals.

Never exchange
your integrity
for success.

Never try to run
before you can walk.

Never

forget to put yourself in others' shoes
once in a while.

Never

laugh when someone is crying.
